Exports of Typewriters.

The United States leads the world in the exportation of typewriters. In the single month of April its exports under that head exceeded one million dollars in value as compared with $138,232 in April 1897, while for the complete fiscal year which ends with June the total will be about $12,000, 000, or 8 times as much as in 1897, the earliest year for which a separate record of this trade was made by the Bureau of Statistics.

The growth in exports of typewriting machines has been steadily maintained during the 15 years covered by the official. In 1897 the total exportation was $1,453,117; 1n 1902, $3,302,181; in 1907, $6,274,429; and in 1912, as prevlously stated, will approximate $12,-000,000. From these figures it will be observed that this class of exports doubles in every five years. For the entire period from 1897 to 1912 the aggregate exportation of typewriters of domestic manufacture has been $82,694,336.

The supremacy of the United States in the exportation of typewriters, computing machines and cash registers is illustrated by the following table showing the exports of this class of machinery from the world's leading commercial nations in the calendar year 1911 :

Cold Weather

"Some good, old-fashioned winter, believe me," said Miss Connelly, gayly, as she bounced into the cloak room. "Anybody that's collectin' this kind of weather can have all that's comin' to me and no questions asked."

She threw her muff at Miss Hoftman and her fur collar at Miss Larson and laid two icy fingers on the back of Miss Frizkie's neck. Miss Frizkie squirmed out of reach,

"You're terribly nervous, Frizzie." said Miss Connelly. "You ought to take something for it."

"I'm more likely to hand out something," rejoined Miss Frizkie, with justifiable indignation.

Miss Connelly winked at Miss Hoffman, who promptly collapsed in an attack of the giggles. "Pretty smart for you, Frizzie," said Miss Connelly. Look at what you done to little Hoffy. Some of them wheezes of hers is going to strike in some day.

"I wish you girls could see ma," she went on after a moment. "You never did see any person hate the cold the way ma does. The first night I breezed in out of that north wind ma was settin' just as close to the kitchen studying the statistics. stove as she could set.

"'Forevermore, ma.' I says, puttin' my hand on the back of her neck, lke I done to Frizzie just now, 'why don't you get into the stove?"

"'I would,' says ma, 'If the door was big enough.

"Say, it always tickles me to death to see ma get peevish, so I went to the door and flung it open. 'Gee,' I says, 'but it's close in here!'

"'Nell Connelly,' yells ma, 'shut that door this minute, or I'll take my slipper to you.'

"I didn't move fast enough to suit her, so she jumped at the door and slammed it shut and I really thought she was going to hand me one on the side of my head, she was so mad."

"Well, she says, I never thought to live to be the mother of a goose, she says, 'though it ain't a word that I care to use, me bein' a lady. It don't run in my family,' she says. 'I always did say you took after your pa's "The next morning, when I came down to breakfast, ma was shaking so with the cold that she was makin' the dishes rattle on the shelves. 1 was doin' a shiverin' act myself, but ! wasn't in the same class with ma. "My teeth was chatterin' so I could hardly talk, but I says, as steady as I could: 'My, ain't it oppressive this mornin', ma? What do you say to havin' cold boiled ham, lemonade and ice cream for supper tonight?' I says. "I couldn't get a word out of ma that night when I come home from work. I don't know's I ever seen her so sore before. After supper my ki brother and sister got to scrappin' and, bless Pete, if they didn't break the window! Ma give 'em just one look and then she beat into her bedroom and locked the door, and not one night. "The next night when I blew in there was my kid sister gettin' sup-of us set eyes on her again that

"'Where's ma?' I says. "'Gone to bed,' says the kid.

"It gave me an awful jolt. I'd never knowed ma to go to bed in the daytime since I'd been acquainted with

"She ain't sick, is she?' I says. "'She's actin' awful funny,' the kid says. 'I can't tell whether she's sick or not. You better go in and talk to

"Well, I went into ma's room and there she was in bed with a hot water bottle on each side of her, about seven blankets and three comforters on top of her and my kid sister's cap that she wears to school pulled over her

"'Why, ma,' I says, 'what's the mat ter? Are you sick? "'I s'pose you might call it bein goin' to countenance it another min ute.' Ma knows some swell words, be-Heve me. She's got a grand educa-

"'Well,' I says to ma. 'I guess stayin' in bed's the best thing you can do.' I says. 'I'll fetch you in some supper you'll feel better.'

"'You let me alone,' says ma. 'You needn't bring me nothin' to eat. Do you think I'm going to sit up and eat it? You bet your life I won't."

"On the square, I begun to think she'd gone dippy. She didn't act no more like ma usually does than nothin'. 'Oh, come out of it, ma,' I says. "'You bet I won't come out of it, ma says. 'I'm going to stay right in it till spring. And what's more, she says, 'I ain't goin' to wash my face till the temperature gets above freezing. and before I come to bed I did my hair up to stay till the Fourth of July. Now, beat it,' says ma."

"My, I should think she'd get awful tired of it," said Miss Larson, anxiously. "Do you really think she will stay there in bed?"

"Sure she will," replied Miss Connelly, winking cheerfully at the other 'Ma takes after me and George Washington. She never told a lie." Chicago Daily News.

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS

complete as to be worthless. The number of acres of land cultivated last year was 100,981; pasture.

166,342; woodland, 29,199; lying waste, 6400 and the total number of acres wned was 302,920. The total number of horses in April 1912 was 8911; milch cows, 6652; all other cattle, 8587, making a total of 16014 cattle. The total number of sheep was 22,587. 370 sheep were killed by dogs and 228 injured last year. Their value was $3051. 112,093 pounds of wool was shorn last year.

The total number of hogs in the county was 32,452 and 11,036 of them were for the summer market.

During 1911, 169 horses valued at $13,408, died of disease; 111 cattle, valued at $3292; 524 sheep, valued at 81929 and 7224 hogs, valued at $35,-

Cholera was the cause of the death of most of the hogs, Penn, W. Fairfield, Dodson and North Liberty townships being the heaviest sufferers. In Penn 2049 died and in W. Fairfield 1316.

That the figures on all of this data are too low is shown when compared with the property returned to the assor for valuation, as for instance 10,339 horses were given in for taxation and only 8911 in the statistics. This should be born in mind when
